

SELMA MANSION SETS NEW ATTENDANCE RECORD

Selma's Sturdivant Hall, an elaborate mansion in the heart of the historic Black Belt, recreates the opulent, cotton-rich years of Alabama aristocracy.

Built in 1854, Sturdivant is made of solid brick. There are marble mantels in every room and a marble-tiled floor in the handsome hall. Many antiques and relics of the Confederacy add to the grandeur of this home which is situated 10 blocks from downtown Selma.

Each spacious room in the neo-classical mansion offers a special attraction. For example, the Memorial Room houses choice pieces of early American Furniture. The collection is embellished with interesting portraits of members of the Vane and Olive Company. These Frenchmen settled near Demopolis to recoup their financial losses after Napoleon's downfall.

Last year a record number of visitors flocked to Sturdivant when attendance at the attraction more than doubled the 1964 figure.

During 1966 Sturdivant's pulling power should be even stronger as the attraction features an Indian Exhibit. These artifacts, maps and charts describe the Indian tribes which lived in Dallas County for 20,000 years.

Another interesting exhibit is the courtyard kitchen where cooking was done on open fire places. Incorporated in 1819, (the same year Alabama became a state), Selma has several other ante-bellum homes and scenic attractions. It's Confederate arsenal and huge cotton warehouses were attacked by Union forces in 1865. The ruins of Cahaba, Alabama's first capital, are nearby.

The Alabama Army National Guard, now at record strength, will take annual field training in the eight different locations this year, according to Major General Alfred C. Harrison, Alabama Adjutant General.

General Harrison said that the 16,900 officers and men will attend two-week periods of active duty training starting April 23 and ending August 27. The training sites range from Gulfport, Mississippi, to Anchorage, Alaska.

The largest encampment, consisting of 4,667 Army guardsmen, will be held at Camp Shelby, Miss., when the 31st (Dixie) Division assembles. There are an additional four thousand Mississippi guardsmen in the division.

The bulk of non-divisional units are scheduled for Camp Shelby duty from June 5 to 19.

The 122nd Quartermaster Command, located at Montgomery, travels to Fort Richards, near Anchorage, Alaska, for on-the-job training in petroleum resupply. Last year this unit went to France for its training.

The 20th Special Forces Group will set up an operational base at Gulfport, Mississippi, to control teams which will be deployed at several different

Political Rally Set By Legion

The big political rally and chicken dinner planned by the Elba American Legion has been rescheduled for April 16th to give the politicians time to set their plans, according to Post Commander, Olen Bailey. The event will begin at 11:00 A.M. with the chicken dinner and chicken will be served until 1:00 and at that time the political speeches will begin. There will be no charge to the politicians for speaking. The only money involved will be the normal charge for the chicken plates. Bailey urges everyone to come out, eat chicken and hear what the various candidates have to offer.

Post Office Rates To Increase

Increases in money orders, insurance, registry, certified mail and C. O. D. rates will become effective March 26, 1966 Postmaster Robert Cooper of Elba said recently. The cost of operating these special services now exceeds revenues by $60 million annually. The fee increases will narrow the cost-revenue gap by $30 million, based on business handled in Fiscal Year 1965.

Fees for money orders, registry and C. O. D. are put into effect under the existing administrative authority of the Postmaster General.

The increases include: Money Order Fees will be increased by 5 cents. The minimum fee will be 20¢ instead of 10¢ plus increases for all amounts of insurance.

Registry Fees: The 60-cent and 75-cent fees will be combined into a single fee of 75 cents per value up to $100.

C. O. D. Fees: The present 40 and 50 cents fee brackets will be combined into one fee bracket at 60 cents for amounts up to $10. There will be no change in the fees covering items valued above $10.

Certified Mail: The fee will be increased to 30 cents per item.

Losses incurred in the operation of special services are paid from funds drawn from the Federal Treasury. The fee increases will shift a substantial portion of the special service cost borne by the public to the users of these services.

Folsom to Open Campaign

Friends of former governor James E. (Big Jim) Folsom have placed an advertisement in this week's issue of the Elba Clipper inviting the people of Elba to join the "Big Jim" Folsom for Governor campaign.

Folsom has made several speeches during the last few weeks but this will be his official campaign opening. It is expected that a number of cars will be making the trip from Elba, and some supporters have expressed intention to place posters and banners on their car praising both County and "Big Jim."

The Junior Class of Elba High School will present a three act comedy, "Taming the Brat" by Earl Louis Russell, April 1, 1966, at 7:30 in the high school auditorium.

Mayor Mullins and all councilmen gathered at 6 P.M. Monday night, prior to the regular council meeting, for a steak supper with all the trimmings.

Joining the City Fathers to show them how to eat a good steak was Police Chief Bo Dunaway, City Clerk Harold Deal and several other city officials.

District Library Assistants To Meet In Elba Next Month

The third annual meeting of the A.E.A. District III Association of Student Library Assistants will be held Saturday, April 2, at Elba High School, Elba, Alabama. District III comprises nine counties of Southeast Alabama. Student library assistants, librarians, and principals from the various high schools in the area are expected to attend.

The meeting will begin at 9:00 a.m. and adjourn at 2:30 p.m. Addresses will be given by an Alabama author, Wesley S. Thompson, of Greensboro, Alabama, and a librarian, Mrs. Pauline Williams, of Troy State College. Mr. Thompson's topic will be "The Conservation of Our Traditional Heritage." Mrs. Williams will speak on the subject, "Libraries of Tomorrow."

A talent show presented by the Association members is being planned. There will be a picnic lunch in the school cafeteria.

This organization of high school students consists of girls from grades nine through twelve who work in their school libraries. The school librarians are the sponsors. It was organized by High School, Ozark, Arkansas. Yvonne Smith, Geneva County High, Hartford, Alabama; Parliamentarian; Glenda Register, Eufaula High School, Eufaula, Mississippi, and the library's important role in American education.

To help students become skillful aides of the library.

To further interest in the field of library science. The District III officers are as follows: President: Annela Sasser, Elba High School, Elba; Vice President: Norma Marchman, Dale County High, Midland City; Secretary: Brenda Bell, Geneva High School, Geneva; Treasurer: Vickie Stockwell, Carroll High School, Ozark, Arkansas; Historian: Pauline Williams, Troy State College, Troy, Alabama; Parliamentarian: Glenda Register, Eufaula High School, Eufaula,

McCall Named Leading State Peanut Producer

A Coffee County farmer who broke the ton and a half barrier in peanut production last year has been named Alabama's top peanut producer for 1965.

L. B. McCall, Rt. 1, Enterprise, received recognition as the state's leading peanut producer during the Fifth Annual Meeting of the Alabama Peanut Club at the Houston Hotel in Dothan Tuesday night.

McCall's yield of 3,379 pounds per acre on 23.5 acres placed him at the top among growers from the Wiregrass area who entered the 1965 contest. Runner-up was Frank White, of Houston County, with a yield of 3,343 pounds per acre, and third-place winner was Bernard Bostick, also of Houston County, who produced 3,322 pounds per acre.

Another Coffee Countyman, E. F. Henderson, Route 1, Enterprise, placed fourth in the contest with 3,234 pounds per acre, only 18 pounds less than the third place winner.

A total of 15 Coffee County club, held annually to recognize growers who have demonstrated the use of recommended practices which have resulted in higher per acre yields of peanuts.

McCall's 1965 yield was produced on a field that had been planted in Bahia Grass for the past five years. He used the early Bahia variety, which had approximately 80 pounds of registered seed per acre.

Following peanuts after the Bahia Grass was one of the determining factors in the big yield last year. McCall believes, "A lot of humus had built up in the soil over the past five years. I had and had enriched the soil considerably."

Kinston Applies For State Bank

Interested citizens of Kinston and surrounding communities have recently applied with the State Bank Commission to incorporate a bank in the town of Kinston.

The name of the bank, if approved, will be The Bank of Kinston and the capital stock will be $100,000.

Names of the proposed incorporators and stockholders are: T. F. Anderson, Charles Mallory, G.D. Hattaway, E. C. Nevin, C. Carroll Pierce, James D. Tyler, James F. Crigg, Jr., William T. Nutt, G. Cleve Pierce and Woodrow Pierce.

Initial stock in the new bank would cost $20.00 per share, with some local citizens purchasing only one share, but pledging to use the new facility.

I APPRECIATE those Girl Scouts, I didn't expect it but I was more than grateful for the thought when they presented The Clipper with a box of their Girl Scout Battered Flavored
cookies and their Mint Cookies this week as their token of appreciation for the support they felt had received from this newspaper in their cookie
sale.

We don't often get such consideration and that is another reason this thought is so noticeable. The Elba Girl Scouts are very active and from all observation they are really on the ball, so to speak. They are so active that it makes me wonder just how far I would get if I attempted to keep up with them.

But I excuse myself by saying they have youth, energy, and beauty as well as the ambition to get the job done. I bet those girls parents don't have any trouble getting them to bed at night after a full day of "Girl Scouting."

IF THE comments come from Washington we're apt to "defend" but sometimes we can't help agreeing with some of the criticism we get. For instance an article by Bruce Blasientitled "Alabama Sparks Soap-Opera Race" sounds like "throwing off" on Alabama but the fact remains it is true. A comment "For intruding soap-opera details, the current Alabama political situation, beats anything in the country. Tuing in today, you find - in two key races - a governor, his wife, a former governor, state attorney general, a senator, present and recent congressman and caught in the tangle are an aging Virginia senator and a liberal from Illinois.

One comment I heard during the Wallace speech last week was "Wonder if the candidate or governor thinks the only way to get elected is by 'cheap'
music. I didn't think but apparently it has worked for the past sixteen years. That could be the reason some of our northern friends think we are ignorant in the South. We fall for just such knock-out-drag-out type of music.

WE HEAR a lot about the reporting of this newspaper and that newspaper, mostly the big city dailies. There is one thing you will find about this newspaper. No person, man or woman, can be successful in newspaper business if they are emotional. Political can-of a political candidate. That person did not know what he was talking about but was just one of the thousands of voters who don't really want to know the truth about anything. Many make up their minds of how they are going to vote and then dare

anyone to try to change them, and the best way a person can become unpopular is to actually show them where they are wrong.

The Blood collected Friday entitles the family and West Coffee County friends of the 136 donors to receive blood from the Blood Bank
at any time needed.

It is considered an honor to donate blood and in the near future observers expect to see many people who have never given blood
lining up before the Red Cross volunteers with an outstretched arm and rolled up sleeve.

Just as an illustration
recently I heard a person talking about the "mean things"
a certain big daily newspaper was saying about a certain candidate. I asked for more details and learned that the person had not read the newspaper and was only taking the word

PORT CITY ATTRACTIONS

Mobile's prize scenic package, a weekend vacation of variety, never looked better than the floral pageantry awaiting thousands of visiting Alabamians this spring.

The March-April agenda features the famous Azalea Trail, America's Junior Miss Pageant, historic homes and forts, newly-opened attractions like Alabama Historical and the Battleship Alabama.

The trail stretches through 35 miles of azaleas, less blooming beautifully under massive live oaks and sprawling around antebellum homes.

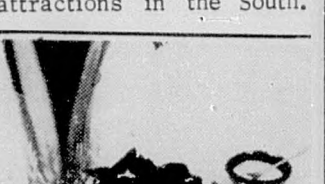

Long Gardens, one of the must-stop places along the trail, offers ten acres of landscaped ravines almost covered with azaleas. Towering pines shield the blossoms while pools and brooks mirror the trees and flowers.

Oakleigh, an impressive mansion with a large flowering lawn, and Clarke's Gardens are two other important stops along the way. World renowned Bellin-grad Gardens climaxes this floral tour.

America's Junior Miss Pageant, nationally televised in color, gets underway on March 22. The week-long event sees the nation's outstanding high school senior girls compete for scholarships and the coveted winner's crown.

Opened only last summer, Alabama Historical on Battleship Parkway has quickly become a popular attraction. Historical recreates 500 years of Alabama's heritage with "action, sound, color and motion." The three dimensional murals, displays and recordings focus on the Fort Mims massacre and the battles of Mobile Bay and Spanish Fort.

Historama's next door neighbor, the Battleship Alabama, smashed all attendance figures in 1965 for newly-opened tourist attractions in the South.

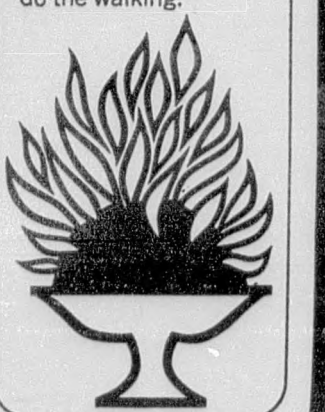

A new and exceptionally mild hybrid cucumber is called "burp-less."

Certain vegetables just don't seem to suit certain stomachs. Thus, it's news when a variety of vegetable is found which is so mild and bland that even tender tummies can tolerate it and their owners enjoy it.

Such a vegetable is Burpless, a first generation hybrid cucumber. It may be grown in many climates, even hot ones. The vines may be trained upward on fence or trellis as well as allowed to spread outward on the ground.

EPIDEMIOLOGY

Epidemiologists deal with disease in the mass rather than in the individual. Epidemiology is defined as that field of science dealing with the relationship of factors which determine the frequencies and distributions of an infectious process, a disease, or a physiological state in a human community. This science, involved with the mass phenomena of diseases and human defects, is one of the important weapons in the worldwide fight against disease and disability.

The process of solving the mysteries of a disease may be likened somewhat to the solution of a detective mystery. The epidemiologist asks himself certain key questions when investigating a killing or crippling disease. Why does this disease strike a particular population or a particular age group, or sex, or vocational group, or urban or rural group? Why does it strike with particular severity or comparative mildness or not at all? Why does it strike regularly or infrequently? The answer may be found within the borders of the country where he starts his investigation or clues may lead him for afield. One of the uses of epidemiology is to discover populations or groups with high rates of disease and with low, in the hope that freedom from disease can be pinpointed. Epidemiologists have been concerned with such major world-wide epidemics as cholera and smallpox. They are also investigating Kuru, a strange and rapidly fatal disease of the nervous system discovered in an isolated population living in the interior of New Guinea.

ELLIOTT VISITS

Coffee County

Carl Elliott, former U.S. Representative and a current candidate for governor, brought his campaign into Elba and Coffee County Wednesday afternoon and repeated his promises to upgrade the educational system, pay a $25,000-age pension every Friday and to get Alabama "back" into the Union.

NEW TROY FOOTBALL COACH, Billy Atkins, right, is pictured talking football with Kasper Anderson, left, and Bill Pierce after the Monday meeting of the Elba Rotary Club.

After the disband were prepared and judged, they were carried to the Jefferson.

Shiela Smith, an Enterprise High School senior who won first place in the County Beef Cook-off Contest, went on to Montgomery to take third place and a $100 prize in the state finals.

Thirty-eight girls from thirty-eight counties met at the Cattlemen's Building Friday, March 18th, to compete for first, second and third places.

Shiela was accompanied to Montgomery by Coffee County's Cow Belle President, Mrs. Wallace Purvis. After the dishes were prepared and judged, they were carried to the Jefferson.

Bids Ask On Jr. College Building

It was jointly announced by Governor Wallace, Chairman of the Public School and College Authority and Senator W. Ray Lolley of Enterprise, Alabama, that bids will be received at 2:30 p.m. in the Council Chamber at the City Hall of Enterprise, Alabama, for a Health Building for Enterprise Junior College. Senator Lolley stated that the Building along with the Administration Classroom Building, Science Building, and Library now nearing completion will bring the building program well beyond the actual student capacity.

The Senator also stated that with funds from the Public School and College Authority, the new building will provide a large gymnasium with folding bleachers for approximately 800 spectators; and related facilities.

CATTLEMEN TO HOLD SALE

The Coffee County Cattlemen's Association will hold their annual sale next Wednesday at the Farmer's Co-op in Elba. The sale will begin at 1:00 and will be preceded by the first annual show of the Junior Cattlemen's Association.
